I am a San Francisco resident but I fully support your “sovereignty” and right to self-determination. The San Francisco Board of Supervisors not a particularly competent crowd - definitely motivated by their own self-promotion and political viability, the S.F. Chamber much the same motivated to grow their membership and turn a buck. Not only should Brisbane’s sovereignty be taken seriously but realize that San Francisco wants to do is kick their can down the road - manage? their over population issues and their inability to manage the city we already have by the expansion of the city and county of San Francisco to include Brisbane and add to the stresses on the infrastructure we already have.

Stand your ground Brisbane - fight for your right to determine how you choose to live in YOUR city, and for the right to make considered decisions about how you will manage your city. I
