I hope you had a wonderful New Year's celebration, and my sincere wishes for a prosperous year ahead.

I am reaching out to inform you of my decision to step down from my committee role for the upcoming year. The demands of my work have intensified, requiring me to be at the office until late at night. Unfortunately, this schedule is anticipated to persist throughout the year, making it challenging for me to attend meetings in person.

Additionally, I am planning to take an evening class for personal enrichment, which I foresee will further complicate my ability to participate in meetings and events. It has truly been a pleasure serving as a committee member, and I am grateful for the experiences and connections I have gained.

While I am stepping down from the formal role, I am eager to continue supporting the committee. I am open to attending meetings or events as much as possible as time allows as a member of the public on a volunteer basis, contributing to the community in a different capacity.

Thank you for your understanding, and I look forward to finding alternative ways to stay involved. That being said, I will come to the meeting on Wednesday.

Best regards,

Dianne Oseto
